

FVJC (Farmington Valley Jewish Congregation) in Simsbury has some exciting news!!

The FVJC Board of Directors is pleased to announce we have hired Marian Gorewitz Kleinman to serve as the cantor soloist/principal beginning on July 1st. We believe she will be a perfect fit into our warm and vibrant congregation.!

The search committee was impressed with her beautiful voice and her commitment to Jewish education. Her educational background and experience as a soloist and principal will further our vision of engaging our young families, inspiring our services and enriching our school curriculum in music and ritual understanding.!

Marian has served as religious school principal at Beth Am Temple in Pearl River, New York for seven years and served as the cantor soloist at Congregation Agudas Achim in Livingston Manor for ten years. She also served as cantor soloist educator at Congregation Shaarai Shomayim in Lancaster, PA and Music Director at Temple of Israel in Wilmington, NC. !

Her position at FVJC will combine her two loves into one position.!

We look forward to Marian Kleinman working with Rabbi Howard Herman to enrich our lives and spirituality through prayer, music and education.!
